

PEUTE PAPIERRECYCLING

offers paper a second chance

Give waste paper a lucrative second chance. You can achieve this safely and efficiently and read all about it on this single sheet of paper.

Recycling of paper with surplus value

Your local council/organisation collects waste paper for recycling. That is beneficial to the environment.

However, it does make a difference, how this paper is subsequently transported and recycled.

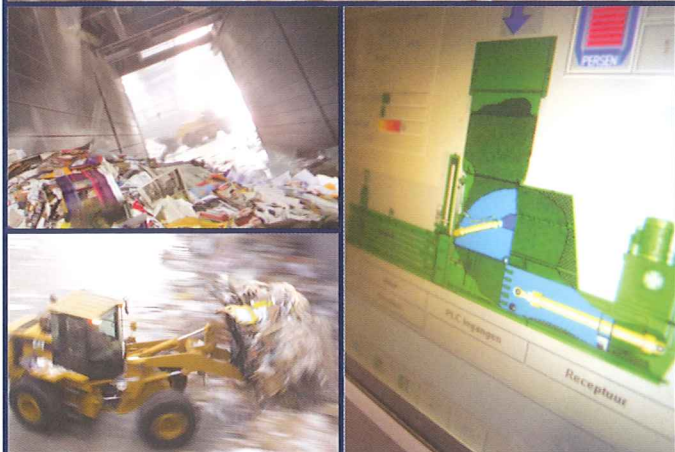

Opting for Peute Papierrecycling simplifies this task, allowing you to take some financial profit at the same time.

Full-service concept

We take the care of waste paper and cardboard out of your hands completely. If so desired we can place special containers in which the material can be stored in a dry and safe condition. Our driver will call on you to collect the paper and cardboard at agreed times. There is nothing more you will need to do. Confidential documents are not a problem. We process these professionally so that they cannot fall into the wrong hands. If necessary, we will do so under the supervision of one of your employees.

Peute: a well-known name in the Netherlands and all over Europe

More than 350 councils and a large number of companies have already entrusted us with the transportation and processing of their paper. Every day therefore, our lorries drive through the whole of the Netherlands. We are also highly active abroad. We are represented in no less than 30 countries. Our paper processing facilities rank amongst the biggest in Europe.

Working with paper

Paper and cardboard are carefully selected on quality in our transit warehouses. Such selection is effected partly by machine and partly manually. Professional selection is essential to allow processing into high-quality recycled paper and cardboard later on. Subsequently, the different paper qualities are compressed and stored.

The semi-finished product is then dispatched to paper producers both at home and abroad.

Saving you expense

Your legal obligation to dispose of waste paper in a sensible way can make you money, since your cooperation with Peute means low expense and extra income for you, without any effort on your part. It is not surprising therefore that many councils and companies have already decided to collaborate with Peute Papierrecycling.
